RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

R & D ON CAPERS

Presently we are actively involved in research and development affairs on capers with the clear mid-term aspiration to produce the capers products in different jars meeting the high-level technological processing requirements specified by the world food market and authorized international organizations.

Once we fully complete our R & D on capers, we would be capable to produce the capers products in different jars under the trusted brand name "Avicenna's Recipe". These products' 90 % volume would be concentrated on sales in foreign markets.
